Hello everyone,

I've been using Facebook primarily since 2010 to make money. I've used a lot of different methods. Some are still prevalent and some went irrelevant.

This method is not exactly new but I did a quick search and the results did not come up with this method here on BHW.

In short, what we're going to do is create a basic wordpress blog ranking things/places/people/you name it and sharing the link on Facebook with a screenshot to trigger emotions of fans of those things and hence harvesting their passion to make them visit your blog.

Things you need :

- A domain
- Any basic wordpress theme and wordpress hosting
- A plugin that allows to host ranking/voting for multiple options

All you need to do is create a ranking/voting post. For example : Best football team in the world. After this you just need to take a screenshot of your post (example attached below) and make picture comments on multiple football pages/groups with a caption seeking their attention. Something like : "Manchester United is trailing, cast your vote in order to make them win". This will go on all pages and groups related to Manchester United. You can use a similar caption on pages and groups related to Barcelona "Make sure Barcelona keeps the lead, vote now." so on and so forth with other teams as well. Along with this caption, attach a short link to your blog post. And bam, watch your visitor count shoot up.

You can use AdSense and any other ad network that pays on CPM basis to earn revenue from this blog.

Disclosure : I've used this method in the past and was able to sell that website for $2500 only after 3 months. I wasn't sure if this still works but came across something similar recently and thought this might be useful to some newbies here, just starting out. You can use this way of 'Passion Harvesting' in a lot more ways if you apply your own twists.

You can scale this up using multiple profiles once you generate some revenue, but you can start slow, with just 4-5 profiles, running on your home IP without any problems. Make a comment using one profile and like that comment from other 4 profiles so that your comment gets pushed to the top and stays there. Just don't go hardcore, spamming a lot of pages in quick succession. That's the beauty of this method, you don't need a lot of spamming, you'll get decent amount of visitors with few comments.

This is my first METHOD post, so apologies if I wasn't clear enough. If you have any queries, you can ask me in the comments below.

Thanks x 80

Maybe you're spamming too much. I've had no problems running 5 accounts on my home IP.

Yes, a shortlink along with your caption that attracts their attention along with the screenshot.

This is not my site and they are not using a plugin, its customized. You can use any voting/ranking plugin, plenty of free plugins available.

Thanks x 2

I did this method in 2015.

However I'm still running 5 accounts on my home IP for some other methods. These 5 accounts are divided between 3 browsers but IP remains the same. I don't go hardcore. If you want to go hardcore, automation and proxies are still the way to go.

i really tried opening accounts with my real home ip, but as long as i join the first groupe, they ask me for verification, maybe i need to buy old accounts, i really gave in trying with new ones

The only link goes to your blog, which I believe you want to promote. How do you now make them to vote?

Please, clarify more on this.

I believe it is possible to increase earnings using Facebook ADS. These things tend to be viral

Of course. But you'll have to test multiple adsets before finding your winning audience. But once it goes viral you'll get the ROI.

Adsense will deduct all the amount from your monthly earning at the time of payment. They don't social media as a real traffic. I tried it in Jan and saw the results. Just wasted my money on advertising only.

Not sure what went wrong for you but social media traffic is still working for a lot of us.
There are sites that literally receive 80% of their traffic from Facebook and other social media sites.

It's just counted as a traffic in Analytics, but not in Adsense. I tried it personally.

Nice share! Just found a site and that is pushing 400k traffic/month with just social doing exactly what OP explained in his post. I might give this a try if I can get my accounts to stay alive      Thanks OP!
